

Prince George Self Advocates Caucus

“Speaking
Together as a Team”

Prince George Self-
Advocates Caucus

950 Kerry Street,
Prince George, BC

V2M-5A3

Prince George Self Advocates Caucus

“Speaking
Together as a Team”

Phone 250- 564-6408 ext
224

Fax 250-564-6801

History

The Prince George Self-Advocates Caucus was formed on April 20, 1991. This group was formed by three people who wanted to start a caucus group in the north.

Their vision was to promote self-advocacy by encouraging people to speak up for themselves.

They also wanted to tell people in their community that they belong. They wanted to have a group that they could call their own.

Some people are still involved with the group today and the Prince George Self-Advocates Caucus has been very active since the day they started.

Their group is the first self-advocates group to run an office within a community living association.

Their office is located at AiMHi 950 Kerry Street.

What does the Prince George Self – Advocates Caucus have to offer?

- Fun
- Peer support
- Learn together
- Opportunity to make friends
- Opportunity to give back to the community
- Help to get what you need
- Opportunity to attend workshops and conferences
- Opportunity to volunteer and fundraise
- Share information

“Speaking
Together as a Team “

CONTACT INFORMATION

E-Mail:

penny.soderena-sutton@aimhi.ca

Phone: 250- 564-6408. Ext 224

Fax: 250- 564-6810

Pager: 250- 612-6389

